

Journal of College Counseling

Volume 11 Number 2 Fall 2008

TOC

From the Editor

College student health, mental health, and well-being

Alan M. Schwitzer

Research

The role of generational status, self-esteem, academic self-efficacy, and social support in college students' psychological well-being

Chia-Chih DC Wang & Carrie Castaneda-Sound

Entitlement, attachment, and the imposter phenomenon in female graduate students

Gina Gibson-Beverly & Jonathan P. Schwartz

Role balance and depression among college students: The moderating influence of adult attachment orientations

Frederick G. Lopez & Alia Fons-Scheyd

The relationships among perfectionism, acculturation, and stress in Asian international students

Johanna E. Nilsson, Jenay Butler, Sarah Shouse, & Chetan Joshi

Professional Issues and Innovative Practice

Using the Millon College Counseling Inventory (MCCI) to assess student mental health needs

Theodore Millon, Stephen Strack, Carolyn M. Millon-Neidbala, & Seth D. Grossman

College Counseling Case Studies

Integrated care in college health: A case study

Cary Tucker, Mary Vance, Sarah K. Sloan, & Chris Brownson

Counseling deaf college students: The case of Shea

Aimee K. Whyte & Douglas A. Guiffrida