

COLLEGE COUNSELING & PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES KNOWLEDGE BASE:

Supported by the American College Counseling Association

Additional support for Phases 1 & 2 provided by the ACPA Educational Leadership Foundation

COUNSELING PSYCHOLOGY LITERATURE

PHASE 1: 1998-2008

PHASE 2: 2009-2013

PHASE 3: 2014-2017

De-Centralized College Counseling Knowledge-Base

- In Student Services: A Handbook for the Profession, Komives & colleagues (2003) make the case for the important role of counseling and mental health services on college and university campuses. Our data-base fills a professional development gap for college counseling professionals by doing the work of bringing together and disseminating knowledge found across several professional literatures.
- Phase 1 was a review of college counseling articles over 10 years: 1998-2008. Phase 1 reviewed over 200 articles in 10 different journals
- Phase 2 was a review of college counseling articles over 4 years to bring up database up to date: 2009-2013. Phase 2 reviewed over X articles in 10 different journals.
- Phase 3 was a review of college counseling articles over 4 years to further update the database: 2014-2017. Phase 3 reviewed nearly 400 articles in 9 different journals.

De-Centralized College Counseling Knowledge-Base: Journals Included in Our Data-Base

- College Counseling Literature
 - Journal of College Counseling
 - Journal of College Student Psychotherapy
- College Student Development Literature
 - College Student Journal
 - Journal of College Student Development
 - NASPA Journal/Journal of Student Affairs Research and Practice
- College Student Health Literature
 - Journal of American College Health
- Counseling Psychology Literature
 - Journal of Counseling Psychology
 - The Counseling Psychologist
- Professional Counseling Literature
 - Journal of Counseling & Development
 - Measurement & Evaluation in Counseling and Development

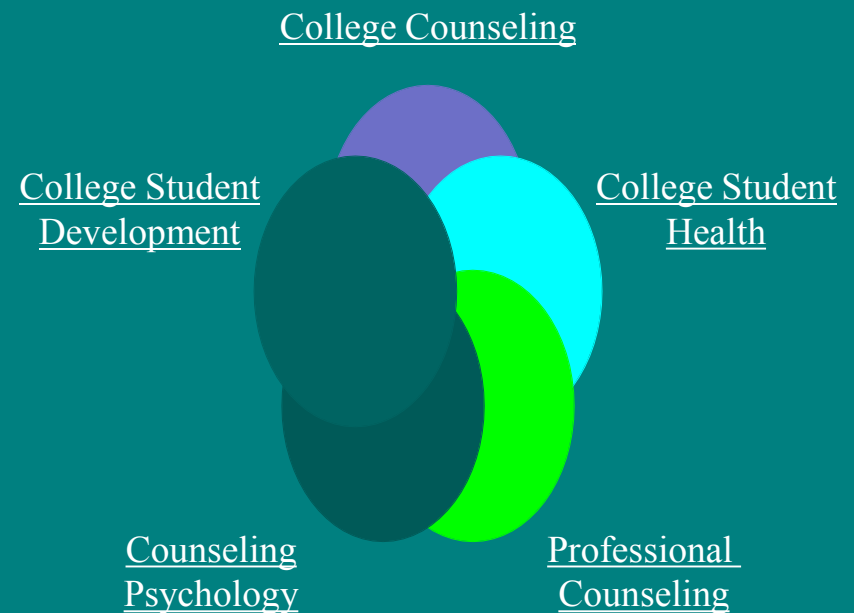

Image 1: Venn diagram depicting overlap of college counseling, college student development, college student health, counseling psychology, and professional counseling.

College counseling themes emerging from the Counseling Psychology Literature:
Journal of Counseling Psychology (JCP)
The Counseling Psychologist (TCP)

Phase 1: 1998-2008

- Theme 1: Specialized campus populations
 - JCP (40 articles), TCP (4 articles)
- Theme 2: College student counseling and mental health needs and presenting concerns
 - JCP (17 articles), TCP (0)
- Theme 3: Attachment theory and self-efficacy
 - JCP (8 articles), TCP (0)
- Theme 4: College student help-seeking
 - JCP (5 articles), TCP (0)
- Theme 5: Intake & assessment
 - JCP (4 articles), TCP (0)
- Theme 6: Professional issues and trends
 - JCP (4 articles), TCP (2 articles)
- Theme 7: Counseling interventions and outcomes
 - JCP (1 article), TCP (0)

College counseling themes emerging from the Counseling Psychology Literature:
Journal of Counseling Psychology (JCP)
The Counseling Psychologist (TCP)

Phase 2: 2009-2013

- Theme 1: Specialized campus populations
 - Divided into 12 specific sub-themes (see following page)
- Theme 2: College student counseling and mental health needs and presenting concerns
 - JCP (13 articles), TCP (1)
- Theme 3: College student help-seeking
 - JCP (9 articles), TCP (3 articles)
- Theme 4: Counseling interventions and outcomes
 - JCP (9 articles), TCP (0 articles)
- Theme 5: Intake & assessment
 - JCP (5 articles), TCP (1 articles)
- Theme 6: Attachment Theory & Self-Efficacy
 - JCP (3 articles), TCP (1 article)
- Theme 7: Professional issues and trends
 - JCP (2 articles), TCP (0 2 articles)

Theme 1 emerging from the Counseling Psychology literature, Phase 2: Specialized populations

- Sub-Theme 1A: Gender & ethnicity (JCP 25, TCP 5 articles)
- Sub-Theme 1B: International students (JCP 7, TCP 6 articles)
- Sub-Theme 1C: Student athletes (JCP 0, TCP 1 article)
- Sub-Theme 1D: First-generation students (JCP 1, TCP 0 articles)
- Sub-Theme 1E: Community college students (JCP 1, TCP 0 articles)
- Sub-Theme 1F: First-generation students (JCSD 3, JSARP 1, NASPA J 0 articles)
- Sub-Theme 1G: Military/veteran students (JCP 1, TCP 0 articles)

College counseling themes emerging from the Counseling Psychology Literature:
Journal of Counseling Psychology (JCP)
The Counseling Psychologist (TCP)

Phase 3: 2014-2017

- Theme 1: Specialized campus populations
 - Divided into 3 specific sub-themes (see following page)
- Theme 2: Undergraduate psychology & graduate counseling psychology education, training, & supervision
 - JCP (2 articles), TCP (8)
- Theme 3: College student help-seeking across campus populations
 - JCP (4 articles), TCP (5 articles)
- Theme 4: College student counseling & mental health needs and presenting concerns
 - JCP (4 articles), TCP (2 articles)
- Theme 5: Counseling interventions & outcomes
 - JCP (5 articles), TCP (0 articles)
- Theme 6: Family of origin issues & influences
 - JCP (2 articles), TCP (1 article)

Theme 1 emerging from the Counseling Psychology literature, Phase 3: Specialized populations

- Sub-Theme 1A: Gender & ethnicity (JCP 15, TCP 4 articles)
- Sub-Theme 1B: GLBTQ students (JCP 1, TCP 1 articles)
- Sub-Theme 1C: Military/veteran students (JCP 1, TCP 0 article)

References

Dungy, G. J. (2003). Organization and functions of student affairs. In S. R. Komives, D. B. Woodard, Jr., & Associates (Eds.). Student services: A handbook for the profession, Fourth edition. San Francisco, CA: Jossey-Bass.

